10 Free PLACES TO VISIT

10 OFFICIAL VISITORS GUIDE

10

📍 Lincoln Memorial

DC is the only place to experience marvelous museums, stately memorials and stunning landmarks without paying a cent. And there's much more where that came from: washington.org/free.

1 NATIONAL ZOO

The two biggest reasons to visit the Smithsonian's 163-acre zoological park are two new giant pandas. Bao Li and Qing Bao, each three years old, have officially moved in with the rest of the Zoo's 2,200-plus animals.

2 NATIONAL MUSEUM OF AFRICAN AMERICAN HISTORY & CULTURE

An odyssey through the five-floor Smithsonian site weaves a rich tapestry through its showcase of Black struggle, history, culture and profound impact on the world.

3 NATIONAL AIR & SPACE MUSEUM

Explore humankind's aerial and interstellar achievements across eight renovated galleries inside this Smithsonian museum known for drawing crowds. New exhibits open in phases through 2026.

4 WASHINGTON MONUMENT

The 555-foot spectacle is a pleasure to behold and tour thanks to an information-packed elevator ride and exhibits at the tippy top (free ticket required).

5 ANACOSTIA COMMUNITY MUSEUM

The first federally funded community museum – part of the Smithsonian – offers dynamic rotating exhibits that explore various aspects of urban life.

6

NATIONAL GALLERY OF ART

Home of the only Da Vinci painting in the Americas, the gorgeous sculpture garden sports an ice rink during the winter months.

7

NATIONAL ARCHIVES BUILDING

Few rooms in the world can match the power and poignancy of the Rotunda for the Charters of Freedom, the only place to view the Declaration of Independence, the U.S. Constitution and the Bill of Rights. The newly reopened National Archives Museum gives visitors an up close view of original artifacts.

8

NATIONAL MUSEUM OF AMERICAN HISTORY

Learn about the advent of transportation, the evolution of the national identity and American icons at this Smithsonian attraction. An exhibition on lowrider culture opens Oct. 3.

9

ROCK CREEK PARK

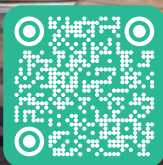

Find fall foliage in DC's natural playground, which is double the size of New York City's Central Park. Play golf, bike on miles of trails or go horseback riding.

10

LINCOLN MEMORIAL

Majestically sculpted to look out over the Reflecting Pool, the iconic 19-foot-tall statue of Honest Abe sits inside a 190-foot-long marble memorial. A new underground museum is expected to open in 2026.

SHARE THE JOY of the ARTS

A toast before the show. A meal with a view. A selfie in the foyer. At the Kennedy Center, it's not just about the performance, it's the moments you share before and after the curtain rises.

Here, you'll find joy and awe, surprise and wonder. When you come for a performance, you'll leave with something more. Because what you feel—and who you feel it with—becomes the memory you both carry.

Craving MORE?

FOR MORE ABOUT DINING IN DC, INCLUDING BITES ON A BUDGET, FAMILY-FRIENDLY OPTIONS AND BOTTOMLESS BRUNCH, VISIT WASHINGTON.ORG/FOOD

Embrace the flavors of fall and warm up this winter with standout restaurants and vibrant dishes across the nation's capital. Read on for a sampling of the city's unmatched dining scene.

EPICUREAN EXCELLENCE

These restaurants are the talk of the town.

- DŌGON: An Afro-Caribbean menu inspired by DC's history from renowned chef Kwame Onwuachi.
- STELLINA PIZZERIA: A local favorite recognized as one of the top artisan pizza chains in the world.
- LOVE, MAKOTO: An upscale Japanese food hall with fresh sushi, innovative libations and DIY grills.

SAVOR SUSTAINABLY

Dig into locally sourced and thoughtfully curated cuisines.

- AMA: Get a taste of Northern Italy at this mission-driven hot spot.
- SHILLING CANNING COMPANY: The Mid-Atlantic region shines in seasonal dishes with ingredients grown on-site.
- FOUNDING FARMERS FISHERS BAKERS: Dine on scratch-made, farm-to-table dishes by the Georgetown waterfront.

CULINARY COMFORTS

Feast on feel-good flavors among cozy corners.

- 1789 RESTAURANT: Settle into a historic Federal-style home for contemporary American fare.
- UNCONVENTIONAL DINER: Satisfy your cravings with reimaged classics from around the world.
- L'ARDENTE: Order the famed 40-layer lasagna and sit by an open-flame kitchen.

BIPOC & WOMEN-OWNED

The city's diversity shines through its wealth of minority-run and female-led restaurants.

- 2FIFTY BBQ: Chow down on authentic Texas-style BBQ with a twist of the tropics.
- MILK & HONEY: Feed your soul with Southern flavors from day to night.
- THE DUCK & THE PEACH: California meets New England with a menu that masterfully mixes the sweet and the savory.

ACCESSIBLE Experiences

Washington, DC is one of the most accessible cities in the world, and the city's hospitality industry is equipped and ready to welcome visitors with disabilities.

📍 Smithsonian National Museum of Natural History

FUN FOR All

FOR MORE ACCESSIBLE TOURISM INFO,
VISIT WASHINGTON.ORG/ACCESSIBILITY

The following attractions maintain dedicated web pages outlining their accessibility features, including ramps, sign language-interpreted tours and wheelchairs.

SMITHSONIAN MUSEUMS

From free manual wheelchair loans to sign language interpretation to Aira Access and more, the Smithsonian Institution works to make all visitors feel welcome. Explore their website to view an accessibility map and to contact the hosting museum in advance to arrange tours.

U.S. CAPITOL

Experience interactive exhibits or tour the many rooms — however you like to explore, the U.S. Capitol makes it easy to find an accessible way to do so. The Office of Congressional Accessibility Services can provide tours specifically designed for visitors with disabilities.

NATIONAL MALL

The National Mall embraces accessibility, from offering braille brochures to closed captioning and more. All major monuments and memorials are wheelchair accessible. Before visiting, it is encouraged to email or call to provide advance notice.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS INCLUDE:

- Hillwood Estate, Museum and Gardens
- International Spy Museum
- John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts
- Library of Congress
- National Gallery of Art
- Shakespeare Theatre Company Harman Center for the Arts
- Washington National Cathedral
- White House
- Woolly Mammoth Theatre Company

GETTING Around

Metro prides itself on being one of the most accessible public transportation systems in the world. In addition to a comprehensive website outlining services available to visitors with mobility disabilities, Metro has also compiled a downloadable guide to accessible transportation options throughout the region.

ScootAround offers scooter and wheelchair rentals for a minimum of three days, weekly or for longer periods of time so that you can navigate the city and its attractions with comfort and ease.

Orthopaedic Mobility Rentals provides daily, weekly or monthly rentals throughout the DC metro area.

KNOW BEFORE You Go

GALLAUDET

DC's Gallaudet University has been the educational, political, social and economic engine of the deaf and signing community on a national and global scale for more than 160 years. Free, in-person campus tours are available.

ASL/LANGUAGE SERVICES

For travelers in need of language support and interpreting, download the Jeenie app on your smartphone or iPad for 24/7 assistance, including on-demand American Sign Language interpreting via video chat.

THE CAPITAL OF Sustainability

The nation's capital leads in fostering a sustainable planet by helping local businesses reduce their carbon footprint.

INITIATIVES

- DC is the first LEED-Platinum city in the world and the first U.S. city to launch a bikeshare system (Capital Bikeshare, which now offers more than 8,000 bikes across the metro area).
- The District's laws require a Net Zero building code by 2026, improving energy efficiency of existing buildings and reaching 100% renewable electricity by 2032.
- The city has committed to cutting carbon emissions 60% by 2030 and to reach full neutrality by 2045.
- The Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority (WMATA) is investing in a zero-emission fleet to cut air and carbon pollution. WMATA will purchase 100% zero-emission buses (ZEB) by 2027 to build a 100% ZEB fleet by 2042.

TRAVEL Tips & INFO TO KNOW

FLYING

Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport (DCA)

10-minute drive to DC

- Accessible on Metrorail's Blue and Yellow Lines
- Terminal 1 serves the A gates, and Terminal 2 serves the B, C, D and E gates

Washington Dulles International Airport (IAD)

45-minute drive to DC

- Accessible on Metrorail's Silver Line
- Fun Nearby: See the Space Shuttle Discovery at the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum's Udvar-Hazy Center

Baltimore/Washington International Airport (BWI)

45-minute drive to DC

- Shuttles take you to Amtrak and MARC trains bound for DC's Union Station

DRIVING

- Use rideshare apps like Uber to order an on-demand or prescheduled ride
- Hail a taxi easily on busy streets or near well-trafficked landmarks (DC taxis are red with a gray stripe); pay with cash or credit card

BIKING

- DC has more than 140 miles of bike lanes and paths
- Capital Bikeshare offers single trip or day passes and has over 800+ stations and 8,000 bikes across the metro area
- Rent a sized bike and a helmet from Unlimited Biking, and go on a guided (or self-guided) ride
- Mount Vernon Trail is paved and spans 18 miles; Georgetown's C&O Towpath is unpaved and leads to Cumberland, Md; Rock Creek Trail is centrally located and connects to nearby trails
- Hail a pedicab, weather permitting

METRORAIL Travel Tips

- "Metro" not "Subway"
- Don't be an escafeftor: Walk on the left, stand on the right side of the escalators.
- Let riders off the train before entering.
- If the bell chimes, don't try to board; the doors close firmly and can separate you from your party.
- To travel on Metro, you will need a contactless credit/debit card or a SmartTrip card.
- Use the same SmartTrip card or contactless card/device to enter and exit.
- Visit wmata.com for more info.
